Details

Assistive Listening for Individuals with mild to moderate hearing loss

Listenor is a powerful lightweight amplified listener that provides greatly enhanced sound level and quality for individuals with mild to moderate hearing difficulty for use with earphones, which are included.

- Volume and tone controls enable you to get the best out of your listening experience.
- The microphone of Listenor Pro can be placed in a raised position using the feet on a nearby surface, or by using the belt clip, or held in the hand and pointed towards the sound source.
- Uses AAA batteries which last for up to 100 hours of continuous use.
- There are a number of optional accessories listed below which can help those everyday listening requirements.
- Headphones or an inductive loop for use with telecoil-equipped hearing aids.

Optional Extras

The Listenor Pro telephone kit provides cables to connect to landline telephones for home or office use. The Listenor Pro amplifies the caller's voice and you can continue to speak using the telephone handset.

Audio cables are available for connection to the headset socket on radio, computer, MP3 or iPod, or CD players.

TV and extension cables are also available.

To use Listenor Pro in meetings, classrooms or lecture halls where you need to focus on the speaker's voice a Conversor directional microphone can be plugged into the microphone socket of Listenor Pro.

For note-taking applications in educational and workplace situations, Listenor Pro can be used with Conversor Pro Recorder for recording and playing back the lecture or discussion, and then uploading the recording to your PC for subsequent editing and filing.
