Extended retailer text	Long Live Metal Fans Summers are getting hotter every year, but you need to keep your head cool when you work, play, or relax. Thankfully there’s the Trust Blaze. A big - yet portable - metal fan that will help you get through the hottest of summer days. Big and Strong The Blaze uses a 17cm big fan to cool your head during a hot day. The fan speed can be easily controlled by switching between a high or low air flow, and the air-stream direction is adjustable to your liking as well. The body of this fan is completely made out of metal and very sturdy, while the rubberised feet keep the fan stable.

Flexible

The Trust Blaze comes with a 120cm long USB cable so you can place it on your desk, wherever you like. And because it uses a regular USB connection, it can be powered by your laptop or desktop PC, or just use a USB charger to connect it to a wall plug. On the hot summer days when you prefer to go to the beach, take the Blaze with you. Connect it to a power bank (sold separately) for portable use and relax with a cool summer breeze wherever you are.
