- Easy and simple to install with no configuration needed
- Ideal solution when cable replacement is not possible or practical
- 2 year warranty

The Lindy 18G Cable Upgrade Adapter is a unique solution to a common problem. Legacy cables installed in walls, ceilings and permanent conduits have no clear way of carrying the latest high bandwidth signals without complete re-installation, which is both time consuming and a very expensive exercise. With the 18G Cable Upgrade Adapter you now have the option to use existing cables and increase their bandwidth without replacing the cable. The unique technology allows 18G signals to be sent over the legacy cable by simply using transmitter and receiver units in the kit. The transmitter connects directly to the source device and the receiver directly to the display device then USB power is provided at both sides, the legacy cable connects between the 2 units and the installation is complete. The whole setup takes less than 5 minutes.

From home installations and boardrooms to education spaces and training areas, this adapter covers all scenarios. This Upgrade Adapter supports resolutions up to 4K 60Hz 4:4:4 with HDR and PCM, Dolby Digital and DTS audio formats out of the box.
